

David Howman CNZM is the Chair of the Athletes Integrity Unit, having been appointed to that position by the IAAF Council in April 2017. He is also currently the Chair of World Squash Ethics Commission, Deputy Chair of the ITF Ethics Commission, Chair of the ICC Anti-Corruption Oversight Group, was a member of the Australian Government's Panel reporting on Sport Integrity , and holds the position of Adjunct Professor at AUT.

David was Director General of the World Anti Doping Agency (WADA), from 2003 until July 2016, and was instrumental in the shaping of WADA into a highly respected and unified global organization responsible for regulating and monitoring world sport and world governments. Among the many partnerships he forged globally was a pivotal one with Interpol culminating in a MOU signed in 2009.

David began his time with WADA as a Foundation Board member representing Oceania, when WADA was established in 1999, and served as Chair of the Legal Committee. He was Deputy Chair of the Independent Anti Doping Observer team at the 2000 Sydney Olympic Games, and the Chair of that mission at the 2002 Winter Olympic Games in Salt Lake City.

Among other positions David has been Chair of New Zealand Tennis, Fair Play Citing Commissioner for SANZAR and New Zealand Rugby, a Board member for the Hillary Commission for Sport (now Sport New Zealand), and a Board Member of the New Zealand Sports Foundation.

David practises as an independent Barrister in Wellington.
